How many Crosslands residents benefit from this committee's activities? How often?

There have been six exhibits this fiscal year. Anyone walking in the Center hallway could witness and respond to these exhibits. These persons include 22 Crosslands exhibiting artists (one each from Cartmel and Coniston) and 26 residents who shared art from their homes in the Collectors' exhibit.

Accomplishments:

- There have been six exhibits of which four were solo exhibits, one was a resident group show, and one was/is a collectors' show. Two residents made zoom presentations, bio/resume announcements have been sent to the chronicle and simple text with several images connected to each exhibit have been seen on the Committee website. The current budget supplies necessary equipment/material more or less each year.
- I am retiring from the committee after I hang the Crosslands Artists Exhibit on July 1, 2022. A new committee has been organized and their management will commence on September 1, 2022. For next year there are four co-chairs who are coordinating what will be four shows. They are Renny Wood, Cyndy Falcoff, Diane Hulse and Sue Squires.
